State Operations Center	Inland Region EOC	Coastal Region EOC	Southern Region EOC
Level 1	Level 1	Level 1	Level 1

SPILL: 15-7110, Gas Leak, 2nd and L Streets, Old Town Sacramento

- On 12/04/15 at 1426 hours the California State Warning Center (CSWC) received a report indicating that a gas leak had occurred at 2nd Street and L Street in Old Town Sacramento. 2nd and L Streets in Old Sacramento closed to traffic and people were advised to avoid the area. The Intersection is near the Theodore Judah Monument.
- Several commercial and residential buildings, including the Clarendon House Hotel, were evacuated as a precaution. People were directed to the Front Street area.
- On 12/04/15 at 1632 hours, PG&E called the CSWC to report the incident (SPILL: 15-7110). PG&E advised that that third party digging damaged a 1.5 inch natural gas line causing the release. The release was contained at 1520 hours. Repairs and investigation are in progress. No deaths or injuries reported.

Waterman Incident, San Bernardino City, San Bernardino County

- On 12/02/15 at 1123 hours the California State Warning Center (CSWC) was advised by the Cal OES Southern Region Administrator of an active shooting incident in San Bernardino City.
- Incident was located at the Inland Regional Center – State of California Department of Developmental Services, 1365 South Waterman in San Bernardino City.
- Normal County services will resume Monday, except for Environmental Health.
- County libraries will reopen today 12/05/15.

Activations

- The San Bernardino County EOC deactivated as of 1730 hours on 12/04/15.
- The Southern Duty Officer will continue to monitor any activities related to the incident.

Weather of Concern

- Another strong storm system will move through Northern California overnight Saturday into Sunday. Expect another round of rain, wind, and snow with this system with the strongest winds and heaviest rain occurring late Saturday night.
- High pressure and Santa Ana winds have produced a quick warm-up. As a result, high temperatures are 5 - 10 degrees above average over much of Southern California, most notably for inland areas. Santa Ana's diminish Sunday, but high pressure will continue unseasonably warm weather through the middle of next week.

WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA AND CENTRAL COASTAL AREAS:

Eureka Weather:

Southerly winds will increase today as a storm system approaches the area. Strong gusty winds and rain are expected this evening and overnight. A wet weather pattern will then continue into next week.

Medford Weather:

A very wet and dynamic cold front has moved near the western United States this evening, and this front will bring another round of wind and rain to Northern California this weekend.

Reno Weather:

High pressure brings drier weather and near average temperatures today. A system moves through on Sunday, bringing breezy conditions with light rain and snow, mainly north of Interstate 80. The storm track retreats into the Pacific Northwest early next week with above average temperatures. Unsettled weather with colder temperatures returns by the latter half of next week.

San Francisco Weather:

Dry weather is expected today along with seasonable temperatures. The next weather system will bring rain to the northern part of the district later tonight and Sunday. Dry and mild weather is expected on Monday and Tuesday of next week. Another system is then expected to produce more rain around the middle of next week.

WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA AND SOUTHERN SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY:

Sacramento Weather:

Several weather systems (Sunday, Wed-Thurs, next Saturday) will bring periods of rain and mountain snow for the upcoming week.

Hanford Weather:

High pressure and dry conditions will prevail today, then a few light showers possible across Merced and mariposa counties on Sunday. Dry and mild conditions will arrive Monday through Wednesday, then possibly a cold storm system Thursday and Friday with widespread precipitation and gusty winds.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA:

Los Angeles Weather:

Offshore flow and high pressure building in aloft will support warm and dry conditions through the middle of next week. Back to back low pressure systems will bring increased cloudiness with the chance of rain and mountain snow along with cooler temperatures late next week.

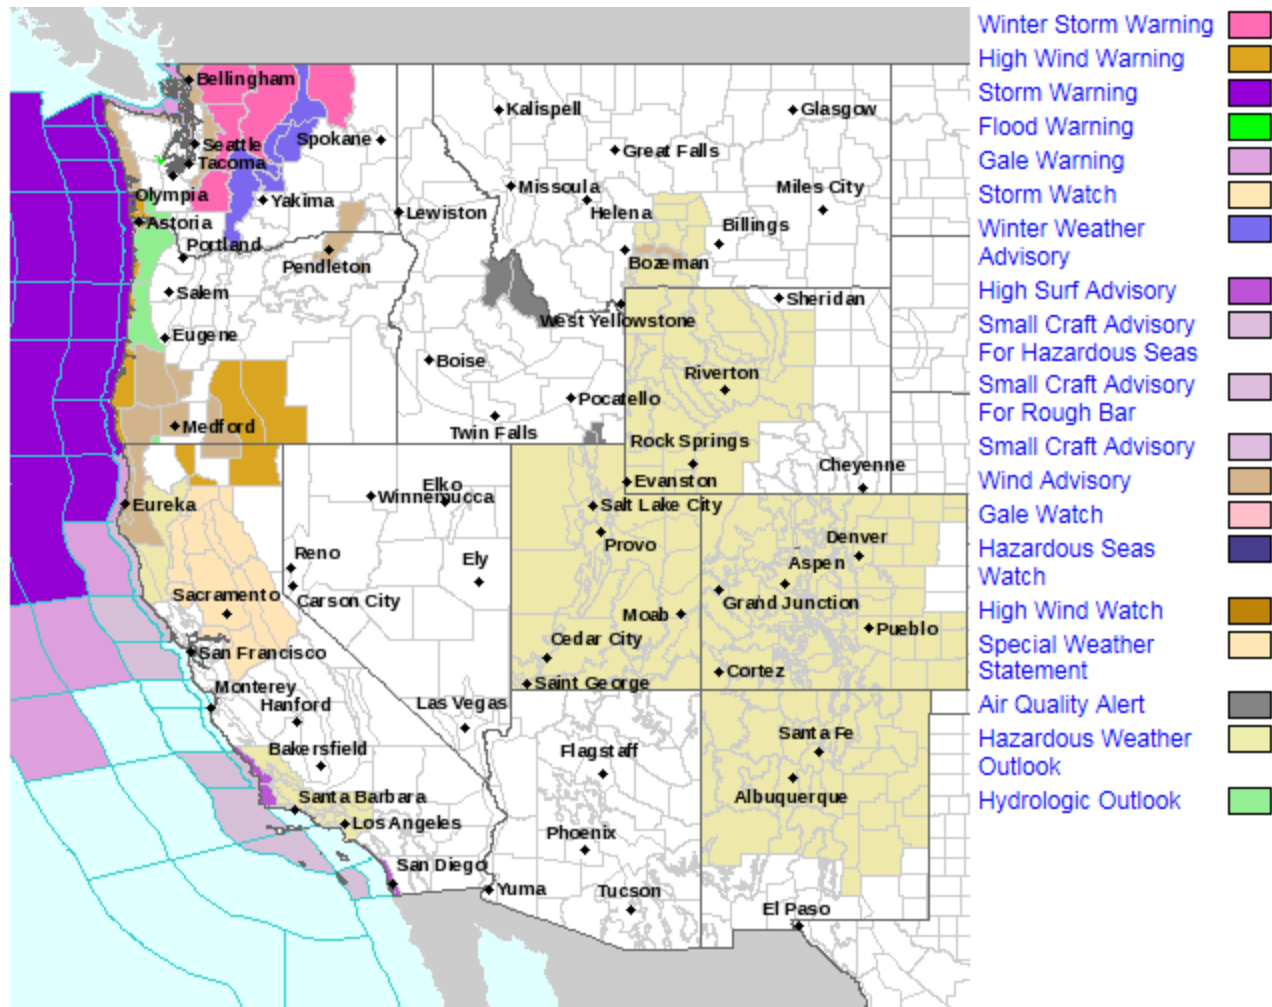

Extreme Southwestern California including Orange, San Diego, Western Riverside and Southwestern San Bernardino Counties:

High pressure aloft and weak offshore flow will bring warm, dry weather through the middle of next week. A low pressure trough will bring cooling late next week along with a chance of showers.

Southeast California Weather:

Warmer than normal temperatures will persist through the middle of next week. Low pressure dropping into the western United States will bring much cooler temperatures and a chance for precipitation during the end of next week.
